Honorable John A. McCone

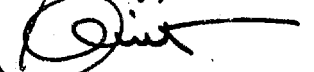

Dear John,

As we both know so well, public life and service has both rewards and penalties, pleasure and regret.

It is my pleasure to send you a transcript of the words of praise and friendship extended to you by the members of the Joint Committee on Atomic Energy in our meeting on January 18th. It is my regret that we will not be facing each other across the conference table again.

There is little I can add to what was said that last Wednesday except to stress the sincerity and unanimity in our appreciation of the contribution you have made to the country.

Sincerely,

Clinton P. Anderson
Chairman
